PARENTS AND TEACHERS SHOULD STUDY CHILDREN

So Says Secretary of State Board of Education in Speech

GOOD PROGRAM TODAY

Mrs. Mary G. Noss Contributes Interesting Talk---Other Speakers Featured

"Dr. J .George Becht, secretary of the state board of education made his appearance at the Tri-District Teachers institute this morning and contributed one of the principal addresses of the session He spoke on the subject "Rational Teaching of Children" and dwelt with theperiods in childrens lives when they were undergoing transformations. He spoke of how they could be thrown into a state of discouragement which was likely to remain with them for many years and cited how the teacher and the parents should make a study of their children and ascertain the best means toward the desired end. His talk was different from any that have been heard thus far and was listened to with close attention.

Mrs. Mary Graham Noss took her hearers on a trip through Italy this morning, when she spoke on "Italy as a Type Study." She illustrated with a sketch map of Italy and then insented the various mountain ranges. the rivers, the innumerable passes and the principal cities, giving an intelligent description of each in its turn. She demonstrated how the pupils could be interested in such trips and there are none who were in attendance but has a clearer conception of Italy than they had before her talk.

Dr. Colestock spoke on "The Native Americans and the European Settlers" and stated that readers of history obtained a misconception of the reception that the early explorers received when they landed in America. "History," hesaid describes the reception with a flourish of tomahawks, scalping knives and the like, when in truth they were received with courtesy, welcome and hospitality. He proved his assertions, by excerpts from Columbus' letters, letters from various other early explorers al l of which spoke of the Indians in the most glowing terms. He related how the Indians were cheated and how their treatment of the whites was changed as a result of the actions of the same whites.

The institute was favored this morning by a solo by Miss Ethel Barth, "O for the Wings of a Dove" by Mendelssohn to which she was forced to respond with an old familiar Irish number. She was acompanied in an exquisite manner by her sister Miss May Barth.

Flies Over Charleroi

Aviator Eels Sails This Way From Monessen On Two of His Trips

Charleroi people are getting their first sight of an aeroplane this week and areenjoying it as much as though they were paying admission for it. Monessen has Aviator Eels, of New York to make two flights daily. Nearly always he comes to Charleroi. The best sight of the machine was to be obtained Wednesday evening. Mr. Eels circled over Monessen hill and crossed theriver between Second and Third streets, Charleroi. He advanced to a point almost directly over Fallowfield avenue and traveled the course of it down to about Eleventh street, breaking over from here to Monessen. This morning he came to Charleroi from another direction and took a course southeast from here. He flies beautifully and does not seem to be bothered in the least by air currents.

EGGS ARE GONE; BOY IS BLAMED

Sides of House Shows Where They Went--Watch Disappears

IS STORY OF MISCHIEF

Fifteen years old and possessed of a most unnatural mischievous disposition, it is stated, Jimmy Murphy, caused all kinds of trouble at the home of Endsley Cupps in Fallowfield township Wednesday and ended up according to complaints against him by walking away with a silver watch.

It is told that Jimmy went to the farm of Cupps for a pony and finding nobody at home there, proceeded to enter the house by the expedient of climbing through a window. Once in, he enjoyed himself greatly, it seems and tore up the house in great shape.

His closing number was apparently his best. Finding about $3 worth of eggs he proceeded to joyfully hurl them about, it is said, and when he had finished he had thehouse beautifully decorated. To prevent pursuit it istold he knocked thespokes out of the wheels of the only available buggy on the farm.

It is altogether likely that Jimmy will be placed in charge of some institution, perhaps Morganza.

Business Men to Meet.

The Charleroi Business Men's Association will hold its regular monthly business meeting tonight at their rooms of the association in the Kirk and Clark building.

PLAY, MANNERS AND MORALS AND MATTERS OF WAR DISCUSSED

Dr. Henry Curtis. of Olivet, Mich., the noted playgrounds expert, made his final appearance at the Tri-District Teachers' institute at the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon and it seemed that he had reserved his best effort for the last appearance. He talked on the subject "The Play Movement and Its Significance." He opened by stating that the first qualification of the teacher had to be her ability to interest the children. He went on to state that the best results could only be attained through interest and subsequent co-operation and not through punishment or the fear thereof. He illustrated by going back into history of various periods where capital punishment was the penalty for various crimes and showed that at such periods these particular crimes were at the highest rate. He declared there was no way to prevent crime, but that the solution was to create the proper social conditions as to make the perpetration impossible.

The greater part of his period was taken up in the discussion of discipline, which he characterized in three classes, preventive. suggestive and co-operative discipline. His talk was highly entertaining and at its conclusion he was given appropriate applause. His closing thought was "Don't play at your work but make your work seem like play."

Mrs. Mary Graham Noss occupied her period with a discourse on "The Teaching of Manners and Morals." She began with a statement that the teaching of these important requisites should begin at home, but much as it is to be deplored, the home is failing in its duties to the present day generation. The women's clubs and other conflicting elements have undermined the home of the olden day until it has come to be a place for the children and the fathers to sleep. So far has the home training decreased that Mrs. Noss feels that it is time for the school to take up the matter of the child's moral teaching and his manners. She compared the American people with those of other countries and touched briefly upon the almost total elimination of the Bible and the word of God from the school. She showed the results obtained from the use of the Bible in Germany which is exemplified in German writings, music and composition generally. She also illustrated the result of taking the Bible out of the French schools at a certain period and the subsequent result.

She closed by citing a dozen or more things in which we are lacking including respect, honesty, truthfulness, religion and the like. Her conclusion was marked by an enthusiastic applause.

Miss Ada Van Stone Harris spent the greater portion of her time in a discussion of English in the grades and dwelt at length on the advantage of teaching letter writing. She also touched upon poetry in the schools as a means of promoting memory work.

Dr. F. T. Colestock made the finest impression of his stay here when he discussed "The American Revolution from the Other Side" He took up the opposite side from which American historians have heretofore dwelt and his reasoning and theories were gems in every sense of the word. He carried his hearers through the period preceding the war and accompanied the British army to the colonies in 1775. He denounced the British commander-in-chief General Howe, a Whig, in strong language and showed many instances where a different story would have been told had the esteemed commander desired to strike a blow at the continental army. His was the las t number of the afternoon period.

The Wednesday session was featured by a violin solo by Miss Norma Bosson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bosson. This charming young musician acquitted herself with much distinction and never was she known to appear to more pleasing advantage. She played "Hungarian Dance" by Brahm in a masterful manner and her delicate yet perfectly true touch and confidence in her own skill was even a revelation to those who knew her best. She was accompanied by Miss May Barth who contributed an important part to the number.

In all the session was the best yet held.

FOUR ANNOUNCE AS CANDIDATES

W. H. Calvert, C. W. Weltner, D. R. Hormell and F. P. McCloskey for Council

Considerable interest is centered today in four announcements of Republican candidates for council. They are W. H. Calvert, C. W. Weltner, D. R. Hormell and F. P. McCloskey. Their cards are being printed on another page of the Mail.

Mr. Calvert is at present a member of council. During his term of service as a councilman he has, to express it by a popular slang phrase, "made good." His efforts in behalf of the borough have been for the good and hehas been an earnest and willing worker always.

The candidacy of Mr. Weltner has occasioned some surprise and it is realized that it is a movement of his

SCHOOL PICNIC LISTED AT PARK

Monessen Outing One of Events Scheduled for Next Week

With the season waning toward its close Eldora Park has booked some good dates, one of which is that of the Monessen schools for Monday of next week. It is also probable before the park is closed after September 16 the Donora schools will hold their picnic. Both Monessen and Donora were cheated out of much anticipated outings during the latter part of May through the instrumentality of bad weather. They both agreed at the time to hold their outinings the first part of September.

Virtually Monday will be a school day for the Monessen schools. It will however be a new way of opening school and is expected to be a most

Llewellyn Appointed

Federal Job Goes to Brownsville Man by President's Sayso

Recommendations for appointments to two of the Federal jobs in Western Pennsylvania were Tuesday sent to the President by Representative A. Mitchell Palmer. They were C. G. Llewellyn of Brownsville to be collector of internal revenue to succeed D. B. Heiner, and B. B. McGinns of Pittsburg, secretary of the Allegheny County Democratic Commission, to be surveyor of the port, to succeed M. M. Garland.

It is expected that the nominations of these two men will go to the Senate in the near future. There was much competition for both of these places, the first of which carries a salary of $4,500 and the latter $5,000.

CHARLEROI COMPANY A WINNER

Monessen Celebration Featured by Military Drill

PARADE IS FEATURE

The Washington Avenue Boys Brigade under the command of Captain Charles Wallgren carried off first honors in the municipal parade in Monessen last night in connection with the celebration of the town's fifteenth anniversary. A competitive drill had been planned between the local brigade and the Belle Vernon company but for some unaccountable reason the Belle Vernon boys did not participate. Captain Wallgren gave an interesting drill befor a large crowd of people and comments of approval were heard for the local boys and their work.

In the municipal parade which featured the evening program, 28 members of the Charleroi volunteer fire department appeared with the Monessen department and made an excellent showing. The parade was one of the most successful events of the week thus far and there were thousands of visitors from all along the valley in attendance.

This afternoon a field meet is being held and some of the fastest young athletes in the Pittsburg district are in attendance. Paul Nutt of Charleroi is entered in the broad jump and in the relay race, running under the colors of the Monessen Athletic Association of which he is a member. All the winners in the big Labor day meet at Bellevue are entered for the various events and some

OHIO CONGRESSMAN TO DISCUSS EMANCIPATOR

Lecture by Dr. S. D. Fess to Feature Local Institute

IS NOTED EDUCATOR

Man Who is Visitor in Charleroi Today Helped Renovate Constitution

Looking very much the same sort of person that Samuel G. Blythe described in the "Who's Who—And Why" column of the Saturday Evening Post two weeks ago Hon. Simon D. Fess, representative in Congress from thesixth district of Ohio, dropped into town unostentatiously this morning, found his way to the Methodist Episcopal church, dropped into a seat and kept quiet. After thesession was over he was discovered and after he had had a good meal at a local hotel it was also discovered just how important a man in the affairs of this nation he is.

Dr. Fess came to Charleroi to speak this afternoon at the Tri-District Teachers' institute. He was programmed to speak on thesubject "A High Type of Atruism," but requsted and was given leave to speak on the Mexican situation and the Panama canal. This evening he is to give the only lecture of the whole institute on "Humanity of Lincoln." Dr. Fess is a man who has made a study of Lincoln and Lincoln's characteristics and will not speak from book learning. He has made a habit of going into places where the noted emancipator was known and loved, for the purpose of conducting careful enquiry concerning him. The lecture tonight will be preceded at 8 o'clock by a short program of music, and Dr. Fess says he will talk for just onehour and fifteen minutes.

Samuel G. Blythe says that Dr. Fess is a "highly educated person but you'd have to take three guesses before you could tell it by looking at him." Also Mr. Blythe tells in the Saturday Evening Post something of Mr. Fess' career. He says that Dr. Fess was born in Ohio in 1861 "and took the chair of the American History at the Northern University of Ohio after he had graduated therefrom. He studied law, managed the law department of this university, and in 1902 went to the University of Chicago where he remained until 1906. Then hetook the presidency of Antioch college at Yellow Springs. Antioch wasrather in doldrums when Fess wentto it, and he went for less money than he was getting in Chicago because hethough hecould build it up, which he did."

Then Mr. Blythe goes on to tell how Fess and a few others renovated the state consitution of Ohio, and put into effect some particularly good laws —good to everybody except some of the big corporations,who got corns because of their workableness. Then the time came for him to run for Congress and he did that with the same spirit that he had manifested in revising theconstitution, and as Mr. Blythe puts it "was nominated, and elected, being one of the three Republicans who squeezed into Congress from that great, typical, steadfast, unswerving state and as able a citizen as Ohio has sent to Washington in some time."

THE NEW HAVEN WRECK.

A few years ago New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad stock was selling around the $280 mark. "Yesterday, upon the advent of a new president in office and immediately following the worst wreck in a long series of fatal accidents, it dropped to $91 a share in Wall street, with few takers," remarks the Harrisburg Telegraph.

"There is a mighty lesson back of this falling off in stock valuations and of the disaster that cost more than a score of persons their lives. The New Haven is paying the price of greedy and reckless management.

"Before those in charge of its affairs became ambitious to control the entire transportation facilities of New England and began to invest the company's money in the securities of steamship as well as railroad lines the New Haven was one of the model roads of the United States, a steady dividend payer and well able to finance its rehabilitation needs from its own treasurer. Staggering under its needlessly imposed burden, it has become poverty-stricken as a man of extensive holdings is land poor. It controls vast properties, but the cost of holding them, of caring for heavy interest charges and the making up of deficiencies for companies not able to pay their own way have left it without money with which to meet its own requirements in the way of new equipment.

"Antiquated wooden cars that split to flinders in the impact of collision, signal systems that do not work, emergency brakes that refuse to act are the heritage of the new management. The president who took charge yesterday faces a grave responsibility to the public. His predecessor has been guilty of criminal carelessness approaching murder. Achievement where others have failed will mark the newcomer as one of the geniuses of the railroad world. Failure will ruin a promising career sink what was once a rarely prosperous property to utter ruin and perhaps force the government to radical action in the affairs of the New Haven.

"Aspiring railroad presidents should study carefully not only the wrecks of the New Haven but the wreck of the system itself."

MONONGAHELA HAS MYSTERY

A death that will necessitate an investigation is that of John Juglar, of Webster, which occurred Wednesday night at the Memorial hospital at Monongahela. The man died from a fracture of the skull sustained in some unknown manner.

About two weeks ago Juglar was taken to his home in Webster suffering with the injury. The two men who accompanied him at the time stated that they did not know how he had been hurt and although he was conscious, he refused to shed any light on the subject and his misfortune remained a mystery. A few days later his injury became more serious and he was hurried to the Monongahela hospital where death occurred Wednesday night.

Coroner James T. Heffran was at once notified of the death and the circumstances preceding it and he will conduct an investigation. The dead man is survived by a widow and three children, living at Webster.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Say, pop. Johhy Burton's going to have a party nex' week an' he said he'd invite me. An' I got to take a present." The story is related in the Altoona Tribune.

"A present! What's that for?"

"It's his birthday. All the kids take presents."

Something had gone wrong at the office that day and pop wasn't in a good humor.

"That's all nonsense," he declared. "Every day or two it's a present here and a present there. If you can't go to a party without taking a present, you might as well stay home.

The boy's lip trembled, but he said nothing.

The next day pop regretted his hasty words and tried to square matters.

"George," he said, "there's a nice present for your friend Johnny in my overcoat pocket. You may take it to him."

"Too late, pop," said George sadly. "I licked him so he wouldn't invite me."

entertaining way. Plans are under way now for making the affair one of the best school outings of the year.

On Tuesday the Delmar club of Monessen will hold one of their last dances of the season. Because of the near approach of the season's end they will endeavor to make the dance one of the best they have held during the entire season.

Wednesday evening the Knights of Columbus from Charleroi and from Monessen will hold their second annual dance. Committees from both councils are actively planning for the event. The Monongahela High School Alumni Association have engaged the dancing privileges of the park for Thursday night of next week for a private dance. Perhaps Mrs. John Jenkins of Monongahela will hold her regular weekly dance on Friday evening.

One of the big events of the week will be the Donora Band picnic that will take place on Saturday.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT COUNTY FAIR

The biggest crowd ever seen at a fair in Washington county is expected at Washington this afternoon for the closing day of the Washington fair. The attendance thus far has beaten all previous records, with 15,000 the opening day, between 4,000 and 5,000 Tuesday and approximately 12,000 on Wednesday.

Wednesday was children's day and the 45 youngsters from the Children's home of Washington county were the honor guests of the association. An event of particular interest today was the boys' judging of live stock conducted by J. M. McKee, the Government farm expert located at Washington. Thirty boys and one girl entered. The first prize a 12-weeks' course at Pennsylvania State college, went to W. E. Ashbrook of Washington; second a registered Holstein Jersey or short horn bull, was won by Walter Gillis of Coal Center.

LOCAL FOLKS ENJOY LOCAL CORN ROAST

About 50 young folks from Charleroi and nearby joints attended a corn roast that was held on the Frye farm back of Charleroi Wednesday evening. The affair was arranged by a committee of young men of Charleroi. The young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Frye on Fifth street and from there walked to the scene of their evening's enjoyment. A large bonfire was built and the corn was roasted, while games and amusements of a varied nature were indulged in. The party was most congenial. Among the out-of-town guests present were couples from Brownsville and Pittsburg.

Like Mr. Weltner, D. R. Hormell s a popular business man. The fact that he has lived here for years and taken an active part in civic affairs without seeking for or asking favors of any kind. and the fact that he now is willing still to accept more work without recompense, evidences his spirit. PARENTS AND TEACHERS SHOULD STUDY CHILDREN

GOOD PROGRAM TODAY

Mrs. Mary G. Noss Contributes Interesting Talk---Other Speal ers Featured

Dr. J .George Becht, secretary of the state board of education made his appearance at the Tri-District Teachers institute this morning and contributed one of the principal addresses of the session. He spoke on the subject "Rational Teaching of Children" and dwelt with theperiods in childrens lives when they were undergoing transformations. He spoke of how they could be thrown into a state of discouragement which was likely to remain with them for many years and cited how the teacher and the parents should make a study of their children and ascertain the best means toward the desired end. His talk was different from any that have been heard thus far and was listened to with close attention.

Mrs. Mary Graham Noss took her hearers on a trip through Italy this morning, when she spoke on "Italy as a Type Study." She illustrated with a sketch map of Italy and then insented the various mountain ranges, the rivers, the innumerable passes and the principal cities, giving an intelligent description of each in its turn. She demonstrated how the pupils could be interested in such trips and there are none who were in attendance but has a clearer conception of Italy than they had before her talk.

Dr. Colestock spoke on "The Native Americans and the European Settlers" and stated that readers of history obtained a misconception of the reception that the early explorers received when they landed in America. "History," hesaid describes the reception with a flourish of tomahawks, scalping knives and the like, when in truth they were received with courtesy, welcome and hospitality. He proved his assertions, by excerpts from Columbus' letters, letters from various other early explorers al l of which spoke of the Indians in the most glowing terms. He related how the Indians were cheated and how their treatment of the whites was changed as a result of the actions of the same whites.

The institute was favored this morning by a solo by Miss Ethel Barth, "O for the Wings of a Dove" by Mendelssohn to which she was forced to respond with an old familiar Irish number. She was accompanied in an exquisite manner by her sister Miss May Barth.

Aviator Eels Sails This Way From Monessen On Two of His Trips

Charleroi people are getting their first sight of an aeroplane this week and areenjoying it as much as though they were paying admission for it. Monessen has Aviator Eels, of New York to make two flights daily. Nearly always he comes to Charleroi. The best sight of the machine was to be obtained Wednesday evening. Mr. Eels circled over Monessen hill and crossed theriver between Second and Third streets, Charleroi. He advanced to a point almost directly over Fallowfield avenue and traveled the course of it down to about Eleventh street, breaking over from here to Monessen. This morning he came to Charleroi from another direction and took a course southeast from here. He flies beautifully and does not seem to be bothered in the least by air currents.

EGGS ARE GONE; BOY IS BLAMED

Sides of House Shows Where They Went---Watch Disappears

IS STORY OF MISCHIEF

Fifteen years old and possessed of a most unnatural mischievous disposition, it is stated, Jimmy Murphy, caused all kinds of trouble at the home of Endsley Cupps in Fallowfield township Wednesday and ended up according to complaints against him by walking away with a silver watch.

It is told that Jimmy went to the farm of Cupps for a pony and finding nobody at home there, proceeded to enter the house by the expedient of climbing through a window. Once in, he enjoyed himself greatly, it seems and tore up the house in great shape.

His closing number was apparently his best. Finding about $8 worth of eggs he proceeded to joyfully hurl them about, it is said, and when he had finished he had thehouse beautifully decorated. To prevent pursuit it istold he knocked thespokes out of the wheels of the only available buggy on the farm.

It is altogether likely that Jimmy will be placed in charge of some institution, perhaps Morganza.

Business Men to Meet.

The Charleroi Business Men's Association will hold its regular monthly business meeting tonight at their rooms of the association in the Kirk and Clark building.

PLAY, MANNERS AND MORALS AND MATTERS OF WAR DISCUSSED

Dr. Henry Curtis, of Olivet, Mich., the noted playgrounds expert, made his final appearance at the Tri-District Teachers' institute at the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon and it seemed that he had reserved his best effort for the last appearance. He talked on the subject "The Play Movement and Its Significance." He opened by stating that the first qualification of the teacher had to be her ability to interest the children. He went on to state that the best results could only be attained through interest and subsequent co-operation and not through punishment or the fear thereof. He illustrated by going back into history of various periods where capital punishment was the penalty for various crimes and showed that at such periods these particular crimes were at the highest rate. He declared there was no way to prevent crime, but that the solution was to create the proper social conditions as to make the perpetration impossible.

The greater part of his period was taken up in the discussion of discipline, which he characterized in three classes, preventive, suggestive and co-operative discipline. His talk was highly entertaining and at its conclusion he was given appropriate applause. His closing thought was "Don't play at your work but make your work seem like play."

Mrs. Mary Graham Noss occupied her period with a discourse on "The Teaching of Manners and Morals." She began with a statement that the teaching of these important requisites should begin at home, but much as it is to be deplored, the home is failing in its duties to the present day generation. The women's clubs and other conflicting elements have undermined the home of the olden day until it has come to be a place for the children and the fathers to sleep. So far has the home training decreased that Mrs. Noss feels that it is time for the school to take up the matter of the child's moral teaching and his manners. She compared the American people with those of other countries and touched briefly upon the almost total elimination of the Bible and the word of God from the school. She showed the results obtained from the use of the Bible in Germany which is exemplified in German writings, music and composition generally. She also illustrated the result of taking the Bible out of the French schools at a certain period and the subsequent result.

She closed by citing a dozen or more things in which we are lacking including respect, honesty, truthfullness, religion and the like. Her conclusion was marked by an enthusiastic applause.

Miss Ada Van Stone Harris spent the greater portion of her time in a discussion of English in the grades and dwelt at length on the advantage of teaching letter writing. She also touched upon poetry in the schools as a means of promoting memory work.

Dr. F. T. Colestock made the finest impression of his stay here when he discussed "The American Revolution from the Other Side." He took up the opposite side from which American historians have heretofore dwelt and his reasoning and theories were gems in every sense of the word. He carried his hearers through the period preceding the war and accompanied the British army to the colonies in 1775. He denounced the British commander-in-chief General Howe, a Whig, in strong language and showed many instances where a different story would have been told had the esteemed commander desired to strike a blow at the continental army. His was the las t number of the afternoon period.

The Wednesday session was featured by a violin solo by Miss Norma Bosson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bosson. This charming young musician acquitted herself with much distinction and never was she known to appear to more pleasing advantage. She played "Hungarian Dance" by Brahm in a masterful manner and her delicate yet perfectly true touch and confidence in her own skill was even a revelation to those who knew her best. She was accompanied by Miss May Barth who contributed an important part to the number.

In all the session was the best yet held.

W. H. Calvert, C. W. Weltner, D. R. Hormell and F. P. McCloskey for Council

Considerable interest is centered today in four announcements of Republican candidates for council. They are W. H. Calvert, C. W. Weltner, D. R. Hormell and F. P. McCloskey. Their cards are being printed on another page of the Mail.

Mr. Calvert is at present a member of council. During his term of service as a councilman he has, to express it by a popular slang phrase, "made good." His efforts in behalf of the borough have been for the good and hehas been an earnest and willing worker always.

The candidacy of Mr. Weltner has occasioned some surprise and it is realized that it is a movement of his

Monessen Outing One of Events Scheduled for Next Week

With the season waning towards its close Eldora Park has booked some good dates, one of which is that of the Monessen schools for Monday of next week. It is also probable before the park is closed after September 16 the Donora schools will hold their picnic. Both Monessen and Donora were cheated out of much anticipated outings during the latter part of May through the instrumentality of bad weather. They both agreed at the time to hold their outinings the first part of September.

PARADE IS FEATURE

The Washington Avenue Boys Brigade under the command of Captain Charles Wallgren carried off first honors in the municipal parade in Monessen last night in connection with the celebration of the town's fifteenth anniversary. A competitive drill had been planned between the local brigade and the Belle Vernon company but for some unaccountable reason the Belle Vernon boys did not participate. Captain Wallgren gave an interesting drill befor a large crowd of people and comments of approval were heard for the local boys and their work.

In the municipal parade which featured the evening program, 28 members of the Charleroi volunteer fire department appeared with the Monessen department and made an excellent showing. The parade was one of the most successful events of the week thus far and there were thousands of visitors from all along the valley in attendance.

This afternoon a field meet is being held and some of the fastest young athletes in the Pittsburg district are in attendance. Paul Nutt of Charleroi is entered in the broad jump and in the relay race, running under the colors of the Monessen Athletic Association of which he is a member. Lecture by Dr. S. D. Fess to Feature Local Institute

Man Who is Visitor in Charleroi Today Helped Renovate Constitution

Looking very much the same sort of person that Samuel G. Blythe described in the "Who's Who—And Why" column of the Saturday Evening Post two weeks ago Hon. Simon D. Fess, representative in Congress from thesixth district of Ohio, dropped into town unostentatiously this morning, found his way to the Methodist Episcopal church, dropped into a seat and kept quiet. After thesession was over he was discovered and after he had had a good meal at a local hotel it was also discovered just how important a man in the affairs of this nation he is.

Dr. Fess came to Charleroi to speak this afternoon at the Tri-District Teachers' institute. He was programmed to speak on thesubject "A High Type of Atruism," but requested and was given leave to speak on the Mexican situation and the Panama canal. This evening he is to give the only lecture of the whole institute on "Humanity of Lincoln." Dr. Fess is a man who has made a study of Lincoln and Lincoln's characteristics and will not speak from book learning. He has made a habit of going into places where the noted emancipator was known and loved for the purpose of conducting careful inquiry concerning him. The lecture tonight will be preceded at 8 o'clock by a short program of music, and Dr.Fess says he will talk for just onehour and fifteen minutes.

Samuel G. Blythe says that Dr. Fess is a "highly educated person but you'd have to take three guesses before you could tell it by looking at him." Also Mr. Blythe tells in the Saturday Evening Post something of Mr. Fess' career. He says that Dr. Fess was born in Ohio in 1861 "and took the chair of the American History at the Northern University of Ohio after he had graduated therefrom. He studied law, managed the law department of this university, and in 1902 went to the University of Chicago where he remained until 1906. Then hetook the presidency of Antioch college at Yellow Springs. Antioch wasrather in doldrums when Fess wentto it, and he went for less money than he was getting in Chicago because hethough he could build it up, which he did."

Then Mr. Blythe goes on to tell how Fess and a few others renovated the state consitution of Ohio, and put into effect some particularly good laws—good to everybody except some of the big corporations, who got corns because of their workableness. Then the time came for him to run for Congress and he did that with the same spirit that he had manifested in revising theconstitution, and as Mr. Blythe puts it "was nominated, and elected, being one of the three Republicans who squeezed into Congress from that great, typical, steadfast, unswerving state and as able a citizen as Ohio has sent to Washington in some time."

THE NEW HAVEN WRECK.

A few years ago New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad stock was selling around the $280 mark. "Yesterday, upon the advent of a new president in office and immediately [illegible] series of fatal accidents, it dropped to $91 a share in Wall street, with few takers," remarks the Harrisburg Telegraph.

"There is a mighty lesson back of this falling off in stock valuations and of the disaster that cost more than a score of persons their lives. The New Haven is paying the price of greedy and reckless management.

"Before those in charge of its affairs became ambitious to control the entire transportation facilities of New England and began to invest the company's money in the securities of steamship as well as railroad lines the New Haven was one of the model roads of the United States, a staedy dividend payer and well able to finance its rehabilitation needs from its own treasurer. Staggering under its needlessly imposed burden, it has become poverty-stricken as a man of extensive holdings is land poor. It controls vast properties, but the cost of holding them, of caring for heavy interest charges and the making up of deficiencies for companies not able to pay their own way have left it without money with which to meet its own requirements in the way of new equipment.

"Antiquated wooden cars that split to flinders in the impact of collision, signal systems that do not work, emergency brakes that refuse to act are the heritage of the new management. The president who took charge yesterday faces a grave responsibility to the public. His predecessor has been guilty of criminal carelessness approaching murder. Achievement where others have failed will mark the newcomer as one of the geniuses of the railroad world. Failure will ruin a promising career sink what was once a rarely prosperous property to utter ruin and perhaps force the government to radical action in the affairs of the New Haven.

"Aspiring railroad presidents should study carefully not only the wrecks of the New Haven but the wreck of the system itself."

MONONGAHELA HAS MYSTERY

A death that will necessitate an investigation is that of John Juglar, of Webster, which occurred Wednesday night at the Memorial hospital at Monongahela. The man died from a fracture of the skull sustained in some unknown manner.

About two weeks ago Juglar was taken to his home in Webster suffering with the injury. The two men who accompanied him at the time stated that they did not know how he had been hurt and although he was conscious, he refused to shed any light on the subject and his misfortune remained a mystery. A few days later his injury became more serious and he was hurried to the Monongahela hospital where death occurred Wednesday night.

Coroner James T. Heffran was at once notified of the death and the circumstances preceding it and he will conduct an investigation. The dead man is survived by a widow and three children, living at Webster.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Say, pop, Johhy Burton's going to have a party nex' week an' he said he'd invite me. An' I got to take a present." The story is related in the Altoona Tribune.

"A present! What's that for?"

"It's his birthday. All the kids take presents."

Something had gone wrong at the office that day and pop wasn't in a good humor.

"That's all nonsense," he declared. "Every day or two it's a present here and a present there. If you can't go to a party without taking a present, you might as well stay home.

The boy's lip trembled but he said nothing.

The next day pop regretted his hasty words and tried to square matters.

"George," he said, "there's a nice present for your friend Johnny in my overcoat pocket. You may take it to him."

"Too late, pop," said George sadly. "I licked him so he wouldn't invite me."

MONONGAHELA ALUMNI PLAN TO GIVE DANCE

Invitations have been issued by the Alumni Association of the Monongahela high school for a dance Sept. 11, at Eldora Park. Special music has been arranged and the affair gives promise of being one of the seasons most enjoyable functions. The committee in charge is composed of Earl Wickerham, Percy Yohe, Harry Calvert, Dale Wightman, Bingham Albright, John Carrick, Jarry Hooker and Kenneth Moyer.

entertaining way. Plans are under way now for making the affair one of the best school outings of the year.

On Tuesday the Delmar club of Monessen will hold one of their last dances of the season. Because of the near approach of the season's end they will endeavor to make the dance one of the best they have held during the entire season.

Wednesday evening the Knights of Columbus from Charleroi and from Monessen will hold their second annual dance. Committees from both councils are actively planning for the event. The Monongahela High School Alumni Association have engaged the dancing privileges of the park for Thursday night of next week for a private dance. Perhaps Mrs. John Jenkins of Monongahela will hold her regular weekly dance on Friday evening.

One of the big events of the week will be the Donora Band picnic that will take place on Saturday.

Stop That Leakage

Benjamin Franklin says, "Beware of little expense; a small leak will sink a ship."

If you will stop the all-dangerous leakage in your household transactions (the nickels and dimes that go for useless luxuries) and start a savings account with this bank, you'll soon find your domestic ship on the high sea of prosperity.

I only requires a dollar to getstarted in the right way and then by adding a small portion of your salary each pay day, you will be surprised at the results.

May Find Help in Mrs. Elston's Letter About Her Daughter.

Burlington, Iowa.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured my daughter of weakness. She was troubled almost a year with it and complained of backache, so that I thought she would be an invalid. She was entirely run down, pale, nervous and without appetite. I was very much discouraged but heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through friends and now I praise it because it has cured my daughter."—Mrs. F. M. ELSTON, R. D. BIG ATTENDANCE AT COUNTY FAIR

The biggest crowd ever seen at a fair in Washington county is expected at Washington this afternoon for the closing day of the Washington fair. The attendance thus far has beaten all previous records, with 15,000 the opening day, between 4,000 and 5,000 Tuesday and approximately 12,000 on Wednesday.

Wednesday was children's day and the 45 youngsters from the Children's home of Washington county were the honor guests of the association. An event of particular interest today was the boys' judging of live stock conducted by J. M. McKee, the Government farm expert located at Washington. Thirty boys and one girl entered. The first prize a 12-weeks' course at Pennsylvania State college, went to W. E. Ashbrook of Washington; second a registered Holstein Jersey or short horn bull, was won by Walter Gillis of Coal Center.

LOCAL FOLKS ENJOY LOCAL CORN ROAST

About 50 young folks from Charleroi and nearby joints attended a corn roast that was held on the Frye farm back of Charleroi Wednesday evening. The affair was arranged by a committee of young men of Charleroi. The young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Frye, on Fifth street and from there walked to the scene of their evening's enjoyment. A large bonfire was built and the corn was roasted, while games and amusements of a varied nature were indulged in. The party was most congenial. Among the out-of-town guests present were couples from Brownsville and Pittsburg.

friends to have him become one of the borough governors. Mr. Weltner is one of the most popular business men in the town and his experience in municipal affairs and his close observation of affairs in the past will stand him in good stead if he is nominated and elected.

Like Mr. Weltner, D. R. Hormell is a popular business man. The fact that he has lived here for years and taken an active part in civic affairs without seeking for or asking favors of any kind, and the fact that he now is willing still to accept more work without recompense, evidences his spirit. Hr. Hormell served for some years on the health board and made an efficient member of this organization.

F. P. McCloskey is in thereal estate business in Charleroi. He always has been a Republican and a stalwart one at that. He has a good business head ,and it is for this reason, as well as for his personal popularity that his name has been placed on the Republican ticket by his friends. In the four candidates being announced today there is good councilmanic timber. All four areclosely in touch with affairs of the town.
